DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Comtois et al (4727226) in view of Leet et al (5557082).

Comtois et al discloses in the figures a modular switching device comprising a plurality of interconnected modules P1-P3 comprising a control device module, a switch device module and/or a pole cell module. The modules of the switching device being interconnected with a shaft 10 adapted to transfer a torque required for operating the switching device from one module to another module characterized in that each module comprises a shaft element 10 and in that the shaft is composed of directly interconnected shaft elements 10. Both ends of the shaft element of each module in the switching device are provided with a connecting member for connecting to a shaft element of an adjacent module. The connecting member is provided at a first end of the shaft element of each module is a male connecting member 14, and the connecting member provided at the second end is a female connecting member 16. The connecting members of the shaft element of at least one module are of a grooved shaft type.

Comtois et al does not disclose that each of the modules is an independent module having six walls and being shaped substantially as a rectangular parallelepiped.

Leet et al teaches a plurality of modules, each of the modules is an independent module having six walls and being shaped substantially as a rectangular parallelepiped. Each module includes a trip lever having a male end and a female end for interconnection together, such that only a single module need be mass produced for use as each of the poles. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to apply the teachings of Leet et al to Comtois et al to form each of the modules as an independent module having six walls and being shaped substantially as a rectangular parallelepiped because this is for the purpose easing the manufacturing burden and reducing cost.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 13-21 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
